

1.0 Company Policy Statement

It is the policy of Roman Electrical Ltd (The Company) to comply with The Health and Safety at Work etc. Act. The Electricity at Work Regulations and relevant statutory regulations and codes of practice concerning health, safety, welfare and the environment in all company activities. Provide and maintain safe and healthy working conditions, equipment and systems of work for all employees and to provide such information, instruction, training and supervision as is needed for this purpose.

The health and safety of employees is of prime importance and so far as is reasonably practicable actions will be taken to prevent personal injuries and risks to health. In turn employees must be aware that they have a legal duty, not only to work in a safe manner, but also to co-operate in the effort made to create safe working conditions.

The Company also accepts the responsibility for the health and safety of all others who may be affected by the activities of Roman Electrical Ltd and its employees.

The company recognises that its activities may have an effect on the environment and are committed to minimise that impact by continually seeking ways to improve its environmental performance.

Roman Electrical Ltd also recognises that there is a requirement to consult with employees under provisions of The Construction (Design and Management) Regulations, Health and Safety (Consultation with Employees) Regulations and the Management of Health and Safety at Work Regulations and will therefore encourage full employee participation in all matters relating to health and safety. Employees will be afforded every opportunity to discuss health and safety issues with a senior management representative.

The company will put into place systems, which ensure effective planning, control, monitoring and review of protective measures.

The content of this policy and accompanying safety guidance arrangements shall be communicated to all employees, contractors and where necessary sub-contractors.

Qubix Safety Group Limited have been retained as Health and Safety advisers to the company and will advise and assist the company in implementing procedures to meet its statutory obligations and the objectives set out in this policy.
